THURSDAY EVENING, FEB. 12, 1880.

Good Roads, Again.

This subject has received considerable attention from us, for the reason that it is a very important one, in which the whole community is more or less interested. Every person who owns a horse or rides in a vehicle of any kind knows the vast difference between a good road, and a bad one—a safe road, and a dangerous one. Many roads are never properly repaired, and of course are never in good order. Sometimes a quagmire or a moist, miry place is left, year in and year out, without an attempt to remedy it permanently, and the little pottering done only makes the evil worse than it was before. No road, not even a macadamized one, will continue in good condition for any length of time, unless it has sufficient large gutters at the sides, kept clear of obstructions until the water passes from the road. Toward these gutters the road should incline gently from the centre, removing everything that may prevent the water from running directly into them, and not force it by little embankments along the edge of the gutters made by the dirt thrown out of the gutters along the road sometimes for fifty or a hundred yards before finding its way into the gutter, thus washing deep lines in the road-bed and seriously damaging it. Holes in the road-beds are the worst drawbacks upon travel. They gather the water and from a very small depression, become larger and larger until they are a decided nuisance. Many of the superintendents or managers of macadamized roads, it seems, are beyond recognizing this simple fact; indeed, they do not seem to be chosen because they understand how the repairing should be done but rather because they know not how to do it.

Dirt roads, such as come under the charge of township supervisors, require the same method and care in keeping them in good condition. But on many of these highways the road-scraper can be used with great efficiency and economy. At least two of these should be owned by every township. In New England these scrapers are much used. The inventor of one of them offers to use his own words, "to take the roads in one hundred townships and keep them in good repair for one year for one-fourth the former cost; or for ten years for one-fourth the former cost, with the exception of bridges and culverts, and providing the roads are free of stones." He adds, "With my machine one man and two horses will smooth-up and put in good condition ten miles of road a day."

We bring the subject before township supervisors now that they may have full time to consider it and make the necessary provision for the coming season's operations. The time has arrived when the sight of a bad road should be the exception, not the rule as it is now. Property owners in every rural district will find out that in no way can money be more certainly saved than in paying it in the shape of taxes to keep the roads in the best of order.—Germania Telegraph.

Montreal Healed From.

R. L. Mosely, of Montreal, Canada, certified Sept. 27, 1879, that he had suffered terribly from dyspepsia, and was completely cured by taking Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. He says: "My appetite is good, and I now suffer no inconvenience from eating hearty meals." These Bitters are also a specific for all skin diseases.

PRINTING AND BINDING.

PRINTING & BINDING

SAME PRICE.

Having purchased the exclusive right of Lancaster city and county to manufacture and use

Reynolds's Metallic Stationery and Book Binder,

THE ONLY DEVICE GIVING ENTIRE SATISFACTION, we are now prepared to furnish Check Books, Letter Heads, Note Heads, Statements, Bill Heads, all sizes, Notes of all kinds, Contract Books, Receipt Books, Order Books, and, in fact any kind of work in which binding is necessary printed on the very best paper at the lowest figures.

This invention, for the use of which we have obtained the sole right in Lancaster city and county, enables us to bind the above named or any other kind of blank and memoranda books at the cost of printing alone, and in a style that for neatness and durability is not equalled by any other device of a similar character. During the time that Reynolds's Metallic Stationery and Book Binder has been before the public it has acquired a high reputation among printers and others who have had occasion to make use of it, for the extreme simplicity of its construction and the ease and accuracy of its operation, while business men and others whose experience enables them to speak whereof they know pronounce its work to be superior in the essential points of cheapness, convenience and durability to that of the old process, and we are willing to give our patrons a guarantee of the perfectly satisfactory character of its work.

Specimens of Binding may be seen at the INTELLIGENCER office, and all persons desiring a neat and substantial piece of work in this line are invited to call and inspect the numerous advantages we have to offer, and which enable us to turn out good and durable work at prices lower than any other printing establishment in the city.
